BAKU

- Yanar Dag Burning Mountain – is located north of Baku city, around 23km from the Old Town. Legend has it it's been on fire since the 1950s when a shepherd threw a match into a patch of natural gas. It's best to visit in the early evening to see the three-metre-high flames erupting from the sandstone hill.
- Atashgah of Baku – built by the Persians in the 17th century, it has served various purposes over the centuries, including as a place of worship for Hindus and Sikhs. An eternal flame fanned by natural petroleum reserves went out in 1969. It was reignited with the help of gas piped in from Baku and the complex was turned into a museum in 1975.
- Gobustan National Park – officially Gobustan Rock Art Cultural Landscape sits approximately 67km south of Baku. The archaeological park here dates back to 1966. In 2007, it was designated as a UNESCO world heritage site. This national park is home to the longest continuing tradition of cave art in the world, dating back to the Palaeolithic times.

SHEKI

- Sheki Khan's Palace – was a summer residence for the Shaki Khans. It was built in 1797 by Muhammed Hasan Khan. The summer residence is renowned for the lavish decoration of its exterior and interior, that was assembled without nails or glue. On 7th July 2019, the Historic Centre of Shaki with the Khan's Palace was inscribed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

TBILISI

- Chronicle of Georgia – large monument located near “Tbilisi Sea”, constructed in 1985, this striking monument depicts scenes from the 3,000-year history of Georgia. Consists of 16 large columns that reach a height of around 114 feet (35 meters) each. The lower parts portray the life of Jesus and other notable figures throughout the history of Christianity. The higher parts of the pillars contain notable members of royalty and rulers of Georgia.
- Narikala Fortress – also called the Mother Fortress of Tbilisi, is an ancient fortress overlooking Tbilisi and the Kura River. The internal part of the church is decorated with the frescos showing scenes both from the Bible and history of Georgia.
- Mother of Georgia Statue – is the city symbol of Tbilisi. The statue was erected on Sololaki Hill to celebrate the 1500th anniversary of Tbilisi in 1958. The twenty-metre aluminium statue is of a woman in a Georgian national dress, symbolising the national character
- Abanotubani – is an important historic part of the city – the place, where according to a legend the King of Iberia, Vakhtang Gorgasali's falcon fell, leading to a discovery of the hot springs and, subsequently, to founding of a new capital.
