ZADAR

- Roman Forum - Constructed between the 1st century BC and the 3rd century AD, the forum is the largest in Croatia. Today it still features remnants of an infamous "shame column" of sorts (where offenders were publicly humiliated), and a temple dedicated to Jupiter, Juno and Minerva - among other relics from the past.
- Church of St. Donatus - The Church of St. Donatus is a church located in Zadar, Croatia. Its name refers to Donatus of Zadar, who began construction on this church in the 9th century and ended it on the northeastern part of the Roman forum.

SPLIT

- Diocletian's Palace - is an ancient palace built by the Roman Emperor Diocletian at the turn of the fourth century AD, that today forms about half the old town and city center of Split, in Croatia. The historical monument here was designated as a World Cultural Heritage site in 1979.
- River Waterfront - The waterfront is a focal point of community activity where the city meets the sea. It is also the main public square, the space for all kinds of social events, promenade by day, parade by night, the site of sport events, religious processions, festivals, celebrations and political rallies.

DUBROVNIK

- Dubrovnik's Ancient City Walls - Dubrovnik's Old Town is completely surrounded by enormous stone walls that date back to the 10th century. Up to 6m (19ft) thick and 2.5m (8ft) high in places, Dubrovnik's Ancient City Walls were built to protect the city and deter would-be invaders.
- Sponza Palace - At the end of the Placa - or Stradun - in Luza Square stands the gorgeous Gothic-Renaissance Sponza Palace. Built in 1516-1522 to serve as a customs house, Sponza is one of the few buildings to have survived the 1667 earthquake that levelled much of the city.

MOSTAR

- Mostar - is an important tourist destination in Bosnia and Herzegovina.
- Stari Most - is a 16th-century Ottoman bridge in the city of Mostar that crosses the river Neretva and connects the two parts of the city. One of the country's most recognizable landmarks, it is considered an exemplary piece of Balkan Islamic architecture.

- Tunnel Museum - The Sarajevo Tunnel was constructed during the Siege of Sarajevo in the midst of the Bosnian War. It was built by the Bosnian Army in order to link the city of Sarajevo, which was entirely cut off by Serbian forces, with Bosnian-held territory on the other side of the Sarajevo Airport, an area controlled by the United Nations. The tunnel linked the Sarajevo neighbourhoods of Dobrinja and Butmir, allowing food, war supplies, and humanitarian aid to come into the city, and people to get out. The tunnel became a major way of bypassing the international arms embargo and providing the city defenders with weaponry.
- Sarajevo Old Town - Stari Grad is a municipality in Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is the oldest and most historically significant part of Sarajevo. At its heart is the Bascarsija, the old town market sector where the city was founded by the Ottoman general Isa-Beg Isakovic in the 15th century.

PLITVICE LAKES

- Plitvice Lakes National Park - The Plitvice Lakes are considered to be one of the most beautiful natural destinations in Europe. Due to its natural beauty and significance, this system of 16 interlinked lakes and a large forest complex around it were set aside as a national park in 1949, World Heritage Site since 1979. The beautiful Plitvice Lakes are famous for their unique colors, including azure, green, blue, and gray. The area around the lakes is home to an extremely wide variety of animal and bird species. Rare fauna such as the European brown bear, wolf, eagle, owl, and lynx can be found here, along with many more common species.

ZAGREB

- Upper and Lower Town - The centre of Zagreb is divided into two parts: Gornji Grad (Upper Town) and Donji Grad (Lower Town). Because of its historical structures, churches and religious monuments, Gornji Grad has a great historic value attached to it and is considered a tourist paradise. Donji Grad, on the other hand, mostly consists of shops, cafes, museums and parks.
- Mimara Museum - Mimara Museum is an art museum in the city of Zagreb, Croatia. It is situated at the Roosevelt Square, housing the collection by Wiltrud and Ante Topic Mimara. Its full official name is the Art Collection of Ante and Wiltrud Topic Mimara.
- Zagreb Cathedral of the Assumption - With its gothic spires towering 105 meters over Zagreb's Gornji Grad the Cathedral of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary is an omnipresent landmark, as well as being one of the city's top attractions. Built in the 11th century, the magnificent cathedral is Croatia's tallest structure and largest place of worship.
- Stone Gate - Stone gate one of the most recognizable symbols of Zagreb. The only remaining gate out of four that once connected Lower town to a part of Upper town known as Gradec. In 1242, the Croatian king Bela IV gave Gradec a status of a free royal city, which automatically made the Stone gate one of the most important passages in Zagreb.
- Lotrcak Tower - Lotrcak Tower is one of the oldest buildings in Zagreb's historic Gornji Grad. It was built into the defense walls of the original 13th-century settlement of Gradec.
